BENJAMIN BOOKER

Attorney

Direct: (345) 949-7237 | ben@broadhurstllc.com

Ben has over 20 years experience working in the legal, fiduciary, corporate and commercial space through the practice of law and serving as director for Cayman Islands investment funds, trust companies and multi-national businesses.

Ben was previously a partner in the Cayman Islands office of a multi-national law firm, where he advised clients on matters of corporate, partnership, trust and regulatory related issues for Cayman Island entities, investment funds and private clients. He specializes in the holding and management of property through Cayman Islands corporate, foundation, trust, and limited partnership structures advising on related regulatory and transactional matters.

Ben also previously served as the Managing Director for one of the oldest independent trust companies in the Cayman Islands. He has acted as for multi-national companies, banks, registered funds, private client and institutional trusts in both an executive and non-executive capacity.

Ben holds a Bachelor of Arts (Law) from Carleton University in 1998 and a Bachelor of Laws from the University of Windsor in 2002. He was originally called to the bar in Ontario, Canada and was an associate with a Canadian based business law firm. He transitioned to Cayman in 2006 to specialize in Cayman Islands corporate, trust and funds law with a focus on the formation, restructuring, administration and regulation of legal entities. He received the designation of TEP from the Society of Trust and Estate Practitioners in 2010.
